*2nd Cut Punch Technique:

This technique allows you to resize a punched cardstock piece. Begin by punching your cardstock as usual. Next, place a sticky note on the back of the punched piece to create a temporary handle. Carefully slide the punched shape back into the punch, aligning it so that when you punch again, it creates a smaller sentiment piece.

This technique works best with punches that have at least one set of straight, parallel edges. Punches made entirely of curved edges may create a slight point on one of the rounded sides. This can still look nice—it simply depends on the shape and the look you are trying to achieve.

DSP Cutting Guide

Cut all the pieces apart. The numbers represent the card number. Some will need to be cut down, but those measurements are on the individual card instruction pages.
